5 Cao learned the Heimlich manoeuvre during a safety education class at Jiangyan Licai Experimental School. "The teacher showed us how to do it and we practised with each other," said Cao.

6 The school often organizes safety education classes and encourages students to take online classes on the School Safety Education Platform of the Ministry of Education（教育部学校安全教育平台）. When talking about safety education, Cao wished students of his age to take it seriously. "Every student should learn to protect themselves and others in a useful way," he said.

(D)1. In which situation can we use the Heimlich manoeuvre?

A.
B.
C.
D.

(B)2. What can we know from the passage?

A. Safety education is useless. ×

B. Cao often has safety education classes.

C. Students can have safety education classes only at school. ×

D. Cao saved a classmate's life when he was having class at school.

(B)3. What did Cao Chenzhe wish other students to do?

A. To focus only on their studies.

B. To take safety education seriously.

C. To avoid practising first-aid skills.

D. To spend more time in making friends.

(C)4. What can we infer about Cao's character from the passage?

A. He is very wealthy and likes to show off. ×

B. He is not interested in learning new skills. ×

C. He is brave and willing to help others in emergencies.

D. He prefers to stay out of trouble and avoid risky situations.

C (A)5. What's the best title for the passage?

A. The story of Cao Chenzhe

B. The use of the Heimlich manoeuvre

C. The importance of safety education

D. The development of Chinese education

模拟演练

Passage 1

Family life is like a strong tree with many branches. Each branch shows a different part of family relationships, daily life, and time spent together. In most families, people share not only a house but also their feelings and experiences. They eat meals together, talk about what happened

时文阅读

Passage A

A grandfather is now recovering (恢复) in the hospital after he ___1___ a cardiac arrest (心脏停搏) on the golf course.

He thinks he would have ___2___ without the help of his grandson.

Jason Aussin was out ___3___ golf with his father, Tony, and his grandfather, Jose, on July 24.

"My grandpa had a ___4___ shot. We thought he was celebrating, looked over and found he fell to the ground. His face started turning ___5___. We checked his breathing and his pulse (脉搏), nothing," Jason said.

Without a moment's hesitation, Jason started ___6___ his grandfather right away. He learned CPR(心肺复苏术) while training to be a lifeguard (救生员) just a couple of months ago and put his ___7___ to good use.

"Immediately (立即), I knew what to do. I turned to my father and said, 'Hey, I need you on ___8___. I'll do the CPR,'" he recalled.

Jose can't say ___9___ about his son and grandson.

"It's like they're professional doctors. They saved my ___10___!" he said.

Jason is now encouraging others to learn CPR.

(C)	1. A. supported	B. noticed	C. suffered	D. realized
(A)	2. A. died	B. played	C. passed	D. run
(B)	3. A. playing	B. picking	C. watching	D. kicking
(A)	4. A. bad	B. great	C. slow	D. patient
(C)	5. A. purple	B. black	C. brown	D. yellow
(B)	6. A. treating	B. helping	C. saving	D. protecting
(C)	7. A. steps	B. efforts	C. skills	D. abilities
(B)	8. A. breaths	B. shouts	C. excitements	D. surprises
(B)	9. A. little	B. enough	C. much	D. hard
(B)	10. A. habit	B. life	C. interest	D. health

Passage B

1 In 2023, 16-year-old Cao Chenzhe from Taizhou, Jiangsu, gave 5,000 yuan to the Disabled Persons' Federation (残疾人联合会) in Jiangsu to help children. The money was for his brave act of using the Heimlich manoeuvre (海姆利克氏急救法) to save a classmate's life.

2 Cao clearly remembered that day. One evening in March, he was having dinner at the school canteen. Then he saw a classmate's face turning purple.

3 "Oh, no, something is stuck in his throat!" Cao quickly found the problem and used the Heimlich manoeuvre.

4 Standing behind his classmate, Cao pressed hard into his chest (胸膛) with upward thrusts (向上推力). After he tried many times, a large rice ball came out of the classmate's mouth.